which make up the bulk of China's inventories, currently stand at 330,300 tonnes, down from 341,900 tonnes.

"One-third of children born now, those under the age of five, come from immigrant families—second or third generation."

The generic industry is also experiencing significant growth in India and China, a trend expected to continue.